

Dear

As part of our ongoing efforts to meet extended producer responsibility (EPR) requirements now rolling out across multiple U.S. states, we're gathering key packaging data from our supplier network.

These regulations require producers to report packaging details including material types, recyclability, weights, and post-consumer recycled content. Your input is essential to help us meet these legal requirements and to ensure continuity of supply with minimized cost exposure.

We've attached a Supplier Packaging Compliance Snapshot — a quick, fillable form that captures the necessary information. It should take approximately 10–15 minutes to complete. If some data is unavailable, please indicate accordingly, and we'll follow up as needed.

Why this matters:

- As many as 10 U.S. states have, or are in the process of introducing EPR legislation with varying definitions and deadlines – with more to follow
- Non-compliance may result in fines, product listing restrictions, or procurement disruptions.
- Early, accurate data allows us to optimize packaging fees and reporting responsibilities.
- We greatly appreciate your support in helping us stay ahead of regulatory obligations and strengthening our partnership.

Please return the completed form by . If you have any questions, don't hesitate to reach out directly.

Best regards,
